Studying at UBT

Information on applying to the UBT as an undergraduate/graduate student is held on the International Students webpage. This includes additional guidance for international students on how to apply, entrance requirements, application deadlines, international fees and financial support.

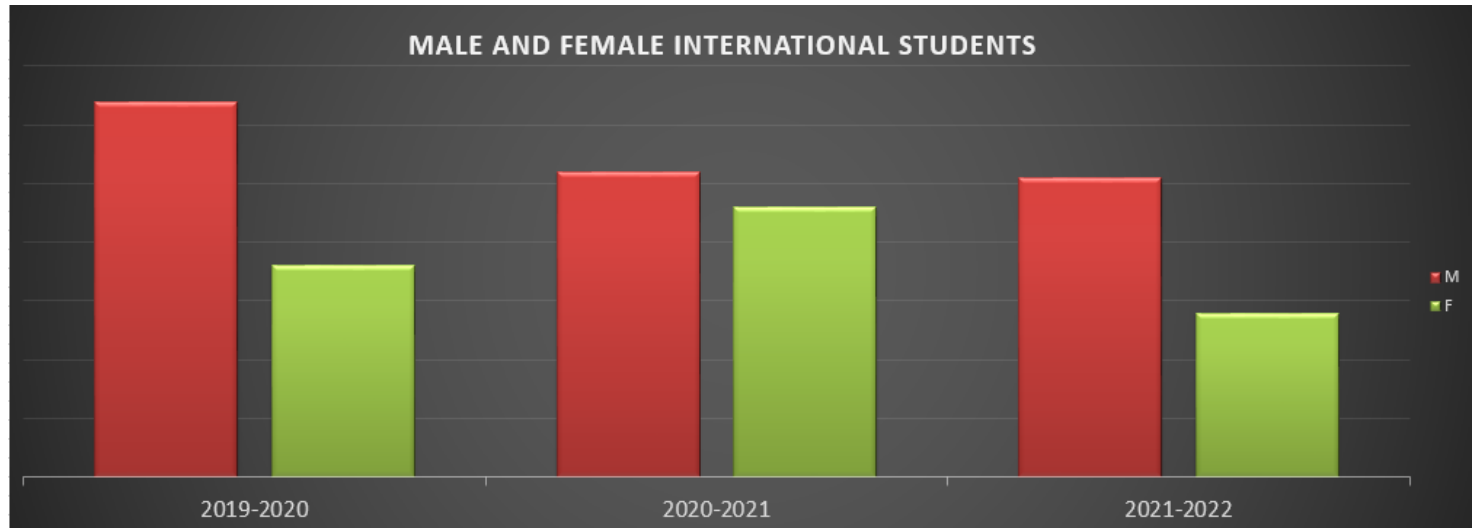

Number of International Students

UBT is a diverse international community and welcomes talented students from around the world. Below is a chart with the number of international students accepted in the last three academic years.

Number of Male and Female Students

At UBT, both male and female students see studies as a possibility to experience a new culture and personal development. Where we refer to 'male' and 'female' in the text below, we mean those who identified themselves as either male or female when enrolling as a student.

UBT fosters a healthy, secure, transparent, and morally inclusive environment that honors and respects each individual's dignity while promoting diversity and inclusion. This means that UBT recognizes, respects and values differences based on ethnicity, gender, age, race, religion, disability and sexual orientation

Although the gender balance among male and female students at UBT is fairly similar each year, UBT wants to ensure all interested students that decisions on study, education, training, and work/study behavior is made on the basis of each person's dignity, without prejudice, and based on objective criteria and factors.

The decision to study abroad may be considered as the most significant commitment students and their families ever make, and UBT wants to ensure all of you that by choosing our institution you are making the right decision!
